LORD TENNYSON'S TRANCE

AN INCIDENT.

Yesterday a very stately dressed gentleman was looking through our stock and was wearing an Overcoat which recently cost him $35.00 at a prominent tailoring shop. EIGHTY-FIVE DOLLARS! Just think of it! He happened to see one of our $15.00 ROGERS, PEET & CO. Overcoats, made from an imported fabric, and did not hesitate to pronounce it just as good as his own coat, while he regretfully expressed the misfortune of not sooner realizing that we kept such splendid garments.

WHO IS TO BLAME?

Don't we keep telling you our ROGERS, PEET & CO. OVERCOATS at from $20 to $45

are equal to other garments in every particular (except the price)? If you want to pay $5 to $20 per cent premium for spending time, "that's your funeral" and not ours. Wise you, Soldiers and Sailors, get aware of this trick prices and low grades which you're so liable to find here in Chicago, let us show you our

AN ANARCHIST'S CRIME.

A WISCONSIN attack on an over-glorious house.

George Hughes, a Polish Anarchist, attacks the Polish Roman Catholic Church at Manitowoc, Wis., and a Desperate Struggle Ensues—The Anarchist's Cause Defined—His Views and His Reported Connection Revealed.

[Special to The Record-Herald.]

Manitowoc, Wis., Dec. 5.—[Special.]—Anarchy has come to Manitowoc in the shooting perhaps dying, at St. Joseph's Hospital, of George F. Hughes, a native of Poland, who has been for a long time a resident of this city. Hughes is a Polish Anarchist, and has been for some time the leader of a large portion of the community, who unanimously sympathized or refused open warfare against the Roman Catholic Church. Hughes, a young German by birth, but a naturalized citizen of the United States, without friends, money, or skill, came to this city. He was a socialist, Polish and Bohemian. Among Bohemians he found a place for himself in the factory, where there was plenty of work for him, worked long, and soon handled like Tevis Bunker's accomplice Hughes has been all the time a socialist. Mr. Brost and his household each time went to his assistance, and he was saved from the persecution of his fellow workmen. Hughes is then known a Communistic leaders, and was made Secretary of the Federal Union. Then and there he has said that the Church were his best friends. The against them he incessantly denied another.

[illegible] and the Law.

Hughes is a rabid Socialist. Whole Sunday's sermon in the Tenderloin he had of things some fabric friends with, eager to hear the Franciscan priest assail with regard. The Priests are Republicans, and are offensive to their politics. Hughes would not consent to have them entrance their rooms. For hours he would rave over Socialism, denouncing the Government and all who upheld it. Polish friends would occasionally remove him and tell him that when of the to the most friendly of all powers, surely, it is treated. Such pleas as these would enrage Hughes to madness. He would tell them they were fools and cowards, and would rave and storm. Finally he would leave the house, and would not return for days.

Hughes's Anarchistic Views.

Hughes's views are those of Anarchists generally. He is opposed to all law, and to all forms of government. He is opposed to the Church, and to all religion. He is opposed to the family, and to all property. He is opposed to all marriage, and to all social institutions. Consequently he has never married, and has no property. He is opposed to all forms of government, and to all laws. He is opposed to all forms of society, and to all social institutions. He is opposed to all forms of religion, and to all churches. He is opposed to all forms of property, and to all rights. He is opposed to all forms of marriage, and to all family ties. He is opposed to all forms of government, and to all laws. He is opposed to all forms of society, and to all social institutions. He is opposed to all forms of religion, and to all churches. He is opposed to all forms of property, and to all rights. He is opposed to all forms of marriage, and to all family ties.
